

Cies Resume/CV

This Resume/CV template features a compact information-rich layout suitable for a mid-career professional. A defining feature of the design is a relatively large block of two-column text at the start of the template to include a summary of interests, achievements, history, etc. This acts as a useful place to communicate information with the potential employer that may otherwise be overlooked by simply reading a list of achievements and job titles. The content is arranged primarily by employer with the ability to list multiple positions within the same company.

summary of interests, achievements, history, etc. This acts as a useful place to communicate information with the potential employer that may otherwise be overlooked by simply reading a list of achievements and job titles. The content is arranged primarily by employer with the ability to list multiple positions within the same company. This is useful for professionals who have moved within a company to clearly display a progression of roles and save space in the document. The template has neatly divided major sections and the ability to include lists of relevant information, such as skills and interests. Your contact information is neatly displayed at the top of the first page separated with floating bullet points.

Experience
Intellectap/ISTPL	MUMBAI, PUNE & HYDERABAD, IN
IT Consultant	Nov '08 – Feb '10
Intellectap is a social-sector advisory firm serving corporates, non-profits, development agencies and governments working in developing markets. I assessed their software development team and methodologies, trained their developers and build several web applications. One of those apps is Mostfit, open source MIS for microcredit lenders.
IT & Strategy Consultant	Jan '10 – Aug '10
Mostfit became a success and I was called in to solve several technical challenges, look at potential growth strategies, and assist in making a business case for this product in a company of its own.
Chief Technology Officer	Oct '11 – present
Joined the C-family to make Mostfit the nr.1 software solution for micro credit lenders around the globe.
Dharma Publishing	NEAR SAN FRANCISCO (CA), U.S.A.
IT Consultant	Nov '09 – Dec '09
Dharma Publishing, the worlds largest Buddhist publisher, is a non-profit, all-volunteer organization that helps to preserve Tibetan Buddhism and culture. I build them a web store, and move the infrastructure of all their web media to a nearly zero maintenance setup that they can maintain themselves.
KDE	edu.kde.org/~kturtle
Software Engineer	Dec '03 – present
KTurtle is an educational programming environment that simplifies learning the basics of programming. At early age I learned programming using MSX LOGO, by creating KTurtle I want to ensure future generation's access to a similar piece of software. I was honored when KTurtle got admitted to KDE 2003.
Truetopia Project	truetopiaproject.org
Initiator	Nov '07 – Apr '08
The Truetopia Project is an open source web application (Rails) to facilitate self-governing communities. It provides a workflow for collaborative problem identification and solution design.
Opendream	BANGKOK, THAILAND
IT Consultant	Aug '09 – Sep '09
Architected and largely implemented an open source media sharing web service (REST api) that facilitates video uploads, transcoding and streaming. Coached their development team on system design, Ruby development (using Merb/Rails) and testing strategies such as TDD/BDD.
