This template creates a layout for an entire month worth of days and allows you to easily populate each day with events. Days of the week and day numbers are automatically populated.

Description

This template creates a layout for an entire month worth of days and allows you to easily populate each day with events. The starting day of the week and date are set in the template and are used to automatically populate the days of the week at the top and the day numbering for each day in the calendar. Within each day, you can specify headings to group together similar events, or specify events only without headings. The template is flexible to months where the last few days need to
